

Cost-effective, highly skilled technical support for all your network requirements

Advanced Technical Services from Bell

Your network infrastructure is critical to the success of your operations. And, it's important to your customers who depend on your network to manage their business transactions and communication requirements.

When you are looking for technical support for your network, you can count on Advanced Technical Services from Bell Wholesale.

The solution

Advanced Technical Services (ATS) from Bell Wholesale offer network technical support such as installation and maintenance. We can provide you with on-site, online and remote technical assistance. You also have the option to provide the on-site services to your customers as part of a package or value-add service.

ATS includes a full scope of support services provided by specialized technicians who are highly trained and certified with major hardware vendors. We offer technical service and support for both Bell and non-Bell networks across Canada*.

Our ATS services include:

- Equipment installations, moves, adds and changes
- Server testing, certification and rebooting as well as recalibrating equipment
- Firmware upgrade installation
- End-to-end high speed copper and fibre network support
- Warehousing and inventory control
- 24x7 appointment intervals
- Flexible service plans: pre-paid packages or pay for time and material based on specific requirements

Benefits

- Cost effective: Optimize your resources and improve efficiency by leveraging our industry expertise.
